How we do it

Equality and Diversity UK
www.equalityanddiversity.co.uk

- We specialise in focusing on the ‘reality’ of our subjects by exploring ‘human nature’ and then linking this to the workplace, rights/responsibilities and working relationships (both internally and externally).
- We start by getting people to reflect on how they think, behave and act.

Equality and Diversity UK

How we do it

Equality and Diversity UK
www.equalityanddiversity.co.uk

- Our programmes are ‘practical’. We use a range of delivery tools, DVDs, case studies, discussion/focus groups, activities and PowerPoint Presentations.
- This enables a variety of facilitation methods to be used which enhances interaction, brings the training to life and allows us to consider individual learning styles and needs.

- The pre-training survey of needs allows us to fully appreciate the training needs of those attending

Equality and Diversity UK

Our Vision

Equality and Diversity UK
www.equalityanddiversity.co.uk

What we want for your organisation

Equality and Diversity UK

Our Vision

- Diversity is about recognising, accepting and valuing difference
- We appreciate that whilst we are all part of a single society with shared rights and responsibilities, we are also individuals with our own talents, ambitions and priorities.
- A diverse society appreciates that there are some clear differences between people in terms of, for instance, gender, abilities and disabilities, national and ethnic origins, age, sexual orientation, culture and religion - but believes that none of these should act as a barrier to a full and equal enjoyment of life.

What trainers are expected to deliver

- All of our trainers deliver bespoke programmes which match the needs of each client group
- We offer delegates control in shaping their own learning through active participation and dialogue.
- Our trainers are trained to support delegates to be involved in discovering, understanding, evolving intelligent solutions to real issues and creating a shared vision that leads to change.

Our aims for participants

- Develop a clearer understanding of fair practice
- Feel confident and competent in eliminating unfairness
- Develop tools for change in their own organisation
- Embed ways of celebrating difference within policy and practice

Our aims for participants

- By the end of our courses, participants will have practical, ongoing strategies to develop their own inclusive practice.
- We are totally committed to the belief that inclusive practice improves the wellbeing of all the people in any context.

Our Approach

Training methodologies that we generally deploy

Equality and Diversity UK

Pre-planning

- We use a tailored pre-course training survey to gain awareness and understanding
- It also serves to identify additional issues and areas for development
- We use it to tailor the programme to meet identified needs, then send it to you for comment
- The packs are delivered 2 weeks prior to training - you also get an opportunity to comment
- It is a partnership approach

Why do we conduct Pre-course Needs Assessments?

- To identify what learning will be accomplished
- To make sure we are applying the right solution to the problem
- To identify what changes in behaviour and performance are expected
- To determine the expected benefits

A fresh approach

- We take a fresh approach - and one that does get results.
- As experienced managers, we know that diversity affects everything; from organisational structure, culture and processes right through to individuals, their behaviour, personal relationships, attitudes and prejudices
- At the individual level, we use tools and techniques to provide insight into key behaviours associated with inclusiveness, or its reverse.
- And we reveal it in the people who matter most - themselves.

What the training is not

- Diversity and inclusion isn't about ticking boxes or being politically correct - it's about relationships, culture and attitude.
- The question is - do you value and nurture difference or do you merely tolerate it?

Partnership working

- We work in partnership with our contractors to plan and develop the programme.
- We will work alongside our contractors to deliver all or elements of the programme
- We will take advice, lead or follow, whichever the programme requires
- We will combine organisational expertise, diversity and training experience as required.
- We will training the trainer offering supported delivery

Group sizes/length of sessions

- One trainer will work with groups of a maximum of 20 delegates at any one time (10 for training via Zoom)
- We are able to work with up to 40 delegates supported by two trainers (face to face sessions)
- Half day sessions will normally commence at 10.00 and finish at 1.00
- Full day sessions commence at 10.00 and finish at 3.30

Key messages throughout

- Managing diversity is about valuing everyone as an individual - valuing people as employees, customers and service users.
- A 'one-size-fits all' approach to managing people does not achieve fairness and equality of opportunity for everyone.
- People have different personal needs, values and beliefs.
- Good people-management practice demands that decisions, procedures and actions are fair, consistent, flexible and inclusive

Four Levels of Evaluation

- Reaction
- Learning
- Behaviour or performance
- Outcomes or results

Post Training Survey

- The Training Feedback Questionnaire is designed to be completed by the training delegates during or at the end of the training event.
- An extension to this idea is a Post Training Survey which can be sent out to delegates three to six months after the training event.
- The post training survey allows delegates to respond to the training after they have had the opportunity to return to the workplace and implement or reflect upon the training.
