Equality and diversity

advisory service

Equality and diversity advisory service

- We have a network of specialist equality and diversity advisers around the country.
- They will look at your current equality, diversity and inclusion policies, practices and procedures with you, recommend improvements, help put them in place and provide training around the policies.
- We will help you with your equality impact assessments, equality analysis, recruitment and selection systems, monitoring and targets, equality training programmes and how you deal with complaints, discrimination and harassment.
